

CATHY & MARCY PRESENT A WORKSHOP FOR TEACHERS MUSIC IN THE CLASSROOM FOR THE NON-MUSICIAN

This workshop is an empowering experience for teachers who love music and would like to incorporate more music in their daily activities with children, but feel under confident in their own musical skills. It gives teachers readily accessible ways of using music without being a maestro, and encourages them to develop musical skills they may not even know they have. They'll build confidence in their ability to effectively use music for storytelling, teaching curriculum and just plain fun!

The workshop is participatory. Cathy and Marcy will lead the group through a series of songs, stories, exercises and ideas that can easily be taken home or back to the classroom. Teachers will learn about song formats, ways to encourage listening skills, and ways to use music without actually singing or playing an instrument. Teachers will also find some of their own musical strengths and receive tips on how to work on some of their weaknesses.

Included are ideas on making and playing homemade instruments, creative ways to use recorded music, increasing your repertoire, song leading for group singing and songwriting. Cathy & Marcy share their "tricks of the trade" that encourage full participation from an audience of children.
